Industrial Parade Unequaled in Beauty and Number of Floats

Five Bands with Drum Corps Enliven Long Line Made Up of Marchers and Automobiles

Two hundred and fifty of the happiest and healthiest factory girls in the world were the chief center of interest in Ogden this morning. They are the makers of Scowcroft's "Never Rip" overalls and trousers and "Maderite" shirts and were a part of John Scowcroft & Sons' company's exhibit in the third, and closing, parade of the Harvest Festival and Fashion Show. The exhibit in its completeness was the most extensive ever made by an industrial establishment in Ogden, if not in the intermountain country, according to many traveled observers.

Great interest was shown by other local business, manufacturing, industrial and educational institutions in the "Industrial Parade" which is to be advertised throughout the country through the medium of the motion picture screen.

The parade, which required forty-five minutes to pass a given point, was, in its entirety, equal to the expectations of the local public—which has grown used to expecting much in these events and the cause of wonderment to visitors not cognizant of Ogden's way of doing things. Many of the automobile owners, too, who entertained the street celebrators last night with their gay parade, were loyal to the committee again today and added much interest and color to the bigger pageant.

First Division.

The first division, which began to move north on Washington avenue at 11 o'clock, was virtually the same as in the automobile parade last night. It was led by a mounted flag-bearer, and two cow girls took the places of the deputy sheriffs with Police Sergeants Mohman and Peterson, as escort to the mayor and city commissioners and their wives who occupied an automobile draped in American flags.

The float of Queen Fashion, escorted by the Ogden Municipal band, came next and was followed by President Albert Scowcroft of the Harvest Festival, "Gus" Wright, representing W. H. Wright & Sons' company, had for company in a big decorated automobile, fifteen little girls dressed in white, wearing blue caps and waving flags. In the middle of the group was a large-lettered sign announcing that the Kiddies of Today Will Be the Customers of Tomorrow.

The Martha society children, appearing as they did last night, were the center of much special interest and applause.

Great Showing.

The John Scowcroft & Sons' company exhibit, which was the big outstanding feature of the parade, was headed by Heber Willard and Joseph Scowcroft, three sons of the founder of the widely known intermountain wholesale and manufacturing establishment, a drum and trumpet corps and a band of factory girls, the official "Never-Rip" float, one of the largest ever built in this part of the country. It represented the local overall, shirt and underwear factory and carried six machines and operatives. The machines were kept in operation and large mirrors at both ends of the improvised factory made it appear much more extensive. At the rear of the factory on wheels, marched the Scowcroft office and factory girls, the latter members of the Ogden Garment Workers' union, approximately 250 in number. They were followed by the male employees of the firm, factory workers, salesmen, office men and warehousemen to the approximate number of 125. The men, including the employees, were dressed in "preparation" uniforms, "Never-Rip" khaki trousers, "Maderite" shirts, leggings and cavalry hats, and every person in the line, including the girls, carried a green, white and purple umbrella and a small carnival horn. The members of the Scowcroft families, who rode in decorated automobiles in the first section of the parade, also carried the umbrellas.

This one exhibit covered a marching distance of nearly three blocks and was enthusiastically applauded all along the line. To make its exhibit the success it proved to be, the Scowcroft company declared a full holiday today at its big establishment.

Large Sugar Beet.

A float that caused the spectators to ponder considerably as to its identity was that of the amalgamated Sugar company. It was a mammoth sugar beet, nearly thirty feet long and ten feet high at its top. A splendid float was that of the Ogden Packing & Provision company, with its brand, "Mountain Bell," as a central figure. This was represented by a huge bell in a belfry. At each end of the belfry at the top was the head of a longhorn steer, and on the platform, directly above the bell, was a large papier-mache hog. Hams and sides of bacon, ready for shipping, were hung from different places on the belfry, and among the legends explaining the size of the local packing plant was the following:

"Capacity 1250 hogs, 1500 sheep, 300 cattle daily."

Candy Exhibit.

The Shupe-Williams Candy company exhibit, in charge of James Wotherpoon, made a tremendous hit, as usual. It was introduced by "Paul Revere," a costumed horseman, and a float on which was a "Paul Revere" chocolate box 10x6 feet in size and numerous smaller official containers of the popular local confectionery product. Three Shupe-Williams auto delivery trucks followed, and from these and the float small boxes of "Paul Revere" chocolates were flung far and wide to the watchers at the curbs and on the sidewalks.

An excellent replica of the coal mining industry was that given by the Lion Coal company's float. This included both the underground and surface workings of a mine, including a miniature railroad in operation, a hoisting outfit and a small mining town.

Bees in the Parade.

The float of the Superior Honey company was a most praiseworthy exhibition of originality and enterprise. It was a genuine demonstration of the honey industry, given by two workmen and a swarm of bees within a screened room. This created much comment.

Many Beautiful Floats.

The Murphy Grocery and Drug company, makers of Hotel Utah brand coffee, Ogden's latest "home product," was represented with a "Hotel Utah" coffee float, the architectural scheme including three huge coffee cans and a number of regular size. Two floats were put into the parade by the Blackman & Griffin company, the first containing a fine display of Utah vegetables and fruits and the second a display of butter and cheese, products of the company's manufacturing department.

The Glen Brothers-Roberts company displayed probably the largest phonograph record made, calling attention to its Victor agency.

W. J. Parker, president of the Utah Canneries' association, was in the lime-light with a Parker's Canneries float. This upheld a crowd of boys and girls, dressed according to the prescribed Parker factory rule, in white work dresses and overalls, together with large pails of ripe tomatoes and large columns of canned goods, arranged in artistic style.

The George A. Lowe company had a "Galeo" float, carrying four parlor and drawing room stoves under a canopy of lavender and white cloth. The Scoville Paper company's float displayed samples of its varied types of stock. The Last & Thomas "Harvest" float, with the heavy of merry girls, thereon, drew considerable attention, as did the Utah Agricultural college float with its industrial milled.

An immense brown vase filled with cut flowers was the main feature of the Weber Floral company's float. The Ogden Furniture and Carpet company's float exhibited the contrast between over styles of the present and past in bedroom furniture. At one end was a room fitted with furniture of the early days in Utah, including a bed that was once the property of Brigham Young, the Mormon prophet and colonizer. On the other end was a modern bedroom suite, finished in white.

The C. W. Cross Harness company was represented by five richly caparisoned cowboys and a float, on which was a fine display of saddles and automobile robes.

Tamaki & Company had a Japanese ship float, on which were riding several Japanese women in their native costume. These ladies threw small boxes of "safety" matches to the spectators of the parade.

The Boyle Furniture company entered a float carrying a handsome leather upholstered bedroom suite. The following automobile companies and agencies were represented: Binford Motor company, Goodale-Scoville Motor company, Kisselkar, Buick, Grant Six, Apperson and Anderson & Larson, auto builders.

Reed Brothers had an auto in the parade.

A district ranger's home, represented on the float, contributed to the pageant by the Ogden district headquarters of the United States forest service department, attracted much attention and praise, as did also a ranch home scene on an elaborate float entered by the Federal Land company.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Spanish War Veterans attained prominence by appearing as an escort to a carriage occupied by two elderly members of their association. All of the ladies were dressed in the full regalia of their order, and on specially made signs were the words "One Country" and "One Flag."

An "All-British" float was also a feature of extra interest.

The Troy laundry was represented by nine gaily decorated cars and the Model laundry by five cars. A number of decorated auto delivery trucks were entered by other local firms, and several floats of last night's parade were also in the line.

The different divisions were each headed by a band, the marching musical organizations being the Ogden Municipal band, Scowcroft's band, drum and trumpet corps, the Mountain Echo girls' band, the Utah State Industrial school band and the Logan Military band.

Prizes Awarded.

Announcement of the prize awards for the industrial parade were made this afternoon by the committee of judges, composed of A. P. Bigelow, R. B. Porter and John S. Lewis. They selected six first awards in that number of classifications, as follows:

John Scowcroft & Sons' company, manufacturers; Parker Canneries, packers; Lion Coal company, miscellaneous; Blackman & Griffin, jobbers; Boyle Furniture company, retail; Greek colony, for float built by foreigners.

While the judges made no announcement as to their views regarding the competition between these six floats, as there was no sweepstakes prize this year, they are said to have considered that the leaders in each class would have run a close race if placed in direct competition with each other.

LIVELY FIGHTING IN CARPATHIANS

Petrograd Reports Taking 500 Prisoners and Five Machine Guns.

TORPEDO SEAPORT

Baltik on Black Sea, Rumanian Coast Bombarded. By Torpedo Boats.

Petrograd, Sept. 9, via London, 2:50 p. m.—German and Turkish troops are engaged in stubborn fighting with Russian forces in Galicia on the river Naraiivka, in the direction of Halicz, according to an official statement issued today by the Russian war department. A counter attack made by the Turks and Teutons, the statement adds, was repulsed by the Russians. In the Carpathians, south of Baranoff the Russians stormed a series of heights. They took 500 prisoners, the announcement says, and captured a mountain battery of several cannon which had been thrown into the ravines.

Russian torpedo boats, it is declared, bombarded the Rumanian port of Baltik on the Black sea and sunk twenty-one barges in which the Bulgarians, who had occupied the seaport, were shipping bread. The statement says:

"German-Turkish counter attacks on the river Naraiivka, in the direction of Halicz, were repulsed by our fire. In this area stubborn fighting continues."

"In the Carpathians, south of Baranoff, our troops carried a series of heights, taking more than 500 prisoners and capturing five machine guns and a mountain battery."

"Caucasian front: In the region of Ognott stubborn fighting continues. "Black sea: Our torpedo boats bombarded the port of Baltik on the Rumanian coast and sunk twenty-one barges in which the Bulgarians were shipping bread from this port. Enemy seaplanes attacked our torpedo boats without result."

BERLIN REPORTS MUCH FIGHTING

Renewal of Violent Russian Attacks in Carpathians Reported by Austrians.

CENTRAL POWERS YIELD

Russians Driven Back by Ottoman Troops and 1,000 Prisoners Are Captured.

Berlin, Sept. 9, via London, 11 a. m.—The following statement was issued today by the admiralty:

"On September 6 our naval aeroplanes dropped bombs on hostile forces off Arenburg, on Oesel island (in the Gulf of Riga). Near Rezel a hostile aeroplane was forced down."

"On September 7 a Russian gunboat bombarded the north Courland coast without success. It was pursued and bombed by naval aeroplanes."

Berlin, Sept. 9, by wireless to Sayville.—Correspondents accompanying the Bulgarian and German armies which are invading Rumania, report that along the Black sea coast an advance of 80 kilometers (about 50 miles) beyond the frontier already has been made. They express the opinion that the progress of the invaders, who have occupied several important positions on the coast and elsewhere in Dobrudja, explains the irresolution and comparative inactivity of the Rumanian forces which, having invaded Transylvania are now merely sending out small detachments to reconnoiter.

Not only Rumanians, but Russians have been defeated by the Bulgarians in Dobrudja, the correspondents say and this destroys the legend that Bulgarians will not fight Russians.

Violent Russian Attacks.

Berlin, Sept. 9, by wireless to Sayville.—Renewal of violent Russian attacks in the Carpathians is reported in the Austrian official statement of September 6. It is said except for some small advantages, the determined efforts of the Russians to advance have been thwarted.

East of Zlotoff in Galicia forty miles east of Lemberg, the Russians attacked after heavy artillery preparation. They were repulsed by the Austrian artillery fire.

CHICAGO MAN ENDS HONEYMOON BY KILLING BRIDE TO "SAVE HER SOUL"

J. Maurice Pettit, his slain bride and her mother.

Erotic insanity in its strangest form drove J. Maurice Pettit of Chicago to end his honeymoon by the murder of his bride. He believed that the only hallowed love was that of the Platonic type, and the really refined spiritual emotion forever divorced from the fleshly desires of the normal human. And so he killed her to "save her soul."

Forces of the central powers in the Carpathian mountains northwest of Kapul, says today's official report issued by the German general staff, yielded yesterday before the pressure exerted by the Russians.

"Continued Russian attacks yesterday between the Zlota Lipa and the Dniester again met with no success. By counter attacks the enemy detachments, which had penetrated our trenches, were driven out and on a front occupied by Ottoman troops the Russians were driven beyond the point from which they had started. More than 1,000 prisoners and several machine guns have been brought in."

"In the Carpathians the enemy threw strong forces on the heights west and southwest of Shypot and near Dorna-Watra. Northwest of Kapul we yielded before pressure. "Balkan theater: Renewed enemy attacks near Dobric (southeastern Rumania) again failed."

PROCTOR AND TACKLER

FUGITIVES ARE CAPTURED

WEATHER BUREAU PREDICTIONS

Information was received at the office of T. A. DeVine, Weber county sheriff, this morning, to the effect that Frank Proctor and F. R. Tackler, two members of the trio who escaped from the county jail a week ago today by burrowing through the rear wall, had been taken into custody at Provo. The arrests were made by Sheriff Henry East of that place, who identified the youths by photographs that accompanied descriptions sent out in circular by the local sheriff's office after the prisoners had escaped.

East, according to the telegram, took the fugitives in custody as they were leaving the vicinity of American Fork, on the San Pedro railroad tracks which run through the town. Personal effects consisted principally of plunder that was the property of an American Fork farmer, whose house they are accused of robbing.

At the time of jail delivery Fackler, who is 19 years old, was serving a six months' sentence at the county jail. He was convicted of a charge of larceny in connection with the robbery of the W. D. Thomas Meat and Grocery store. Two others implicated in the robbery, James Wilson and Charles J. Delaney, were sent to prison after conviction on the same charge. On account of his extreme youth, Fackler was given the lighter sentence.

Proctor was awaiting trial on a charge of grand larceny. He was arrested by Robert Burk, chief of the city detective force, when the officer caught him in the act of extracting a one-dollar bill from the pocket of

BRITISH CAPTURE GERMAN TRENCH

Sharp Hand-to-Hand Fighting in High Wood, on the Somme Front.

BAVARIANS CAPTURED

Report Considerable Activity Against Front North of Pozieres.

Both the French and British took the offensive on the Somme front last night. The French war office reports the capture of a wood east of Belloy. It says 7,700 Germans have been captured since September 3. London announces the capture of a German trench near High wood.

Petrograd announces that the Russians have stormed a series of heights in the Carpathians taking 500 prisoners.

Press despatches from Berlin report that the Bulgarians and Germans are beating down all opposition in eastern Rumania and have already advanced about fifty miles north of the Bulgarian frontier.

Berlin, Sept. 9, via London, 6:25 p. m.—"Enemy attacks on the Somme slackened during the day," says today's German official statement. "An English local enterprise at Fourcaux wood (High wood) and night attacks by the French against the Berry-Denecourt sector failed. We cleared small portions of our wood which had remained in the hands of the enemy."

London, Sept. 9 (2:15 p. m.)—The British captured a German trench in High wood on the Somme front after a sharp fight last night, it was announced officially today. German troops repulsed several attacks during the night but none of them in force. The statement follows:

"Last night there was some sharp hand-to-hand fighting in High wood, where we captured a trench, taking two officers and nineteen Bavarians. In this operation heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy."

"There has been considerable hostile activity against our front north of Pozieres and in the neighborhood of Mouquet farm. In this section small infantry attacks were easily repulsed. A detachment of the enemy which attempted to advance from the direction of Courcellette was stopped by our fire."

"Our troops carried out several successful enterprises in the neighborhood of Arras and Hebezein redoubt and north of Neuville. The enemy trenches were entered, some prisoners were taken and other casualties were inflicted."

London, Sept. 9 (2:40 p. m.)—"The artillery duel on the Doiran front continues," says today's official account of operations in Macedonia. "At Struma Thursday our artillery silenced an enemy battery which was shelling Orlejak bridge. Our artillery dispersed several parties of the enemy."

FRENCH GAINS ON SOMME FRONT

Paris, Sept. 9, noon—Renewing their assault on the Somme front last night, the French made a further gain. The capture of a small wooded area is reported today by the war office. German attacks in the Verdun sector were repulsed.

Prisoners taken by the French since September 3, the statement says, number 7700, including 100 officers. After the unsuccessful German attacks of yesterday, a great number of German dead were found on the field and in communicating trenches.

The announcement says: "South of the Somme we carried a small wood east of Belloy-en-Santerre and made progress east of Denicourt. "Reports from the Somme front agree as to the importance of the losses sustained by the enemy during his last attack. The number of German bodies found is considerable. Prisoners taken by the French troops alone north and south of the Somme since September 3 amount to 7700 men, including about 100 officers."

"On the right bank of the Meuse intense artillery fighting continues in the region of Fleury, Vaux, Chapitre and Chenols. Germans attacked the positions we captured September 6 in Vaux-Chatre wood. Our curtain of fire broke up all the enemy's attempts."

One of our aerial squadrons last night dropped twenty-four bombs on railway stations at Etain and Conflans and on military establishments at Rombach."
